

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. THE TEMPEST

There once was a girl named Miranda
Who flirted with one Ferdinand, a
Shipwrecked young prince
Who, after a rinse,
Played chess with her on the veranda.

II.

TWO GENTLEMEN OF VERONA

There once were two gents from Verona
Who both tried to telephone a
Message of love
To the same turtle-dove,
And in their warm hearts to enthrone her.

III.

THE MERRY WIVES OF WINDSOR

There was a fat man they called Falstaff:

When he walked he carried a tall staff,

And this made him lean—

That is—I mean—

It made him lean on the tall staff.

IV.

MEASURE FOR MEASURE

There once was a Duke of Vienna
Who dressed in a costume of senna:
A reformer was he;
And he worked like a bee
To save the old town from Gehenna.

THE COMEDY OF ERRORS

There once was a couple of twins
Who looked as alike as two pins—
Pardon me, please—
I should have said "p's"
But the rhyme there required the pins.

VI.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING

There once was a miserly bachelor
Who carried his heart in a satchel or Small trunk, perhaps,
Secured well by straps,
Till 'twas stole by a maid from said bachelor.

VII.

LOVE'S LABOR'S LOST

Some men once engaged in love's labor:
They didn't use pickaxe or sabre:
Their labor was lost:
When they counted the cost,
'Twas the price of a pipe and a tabor.

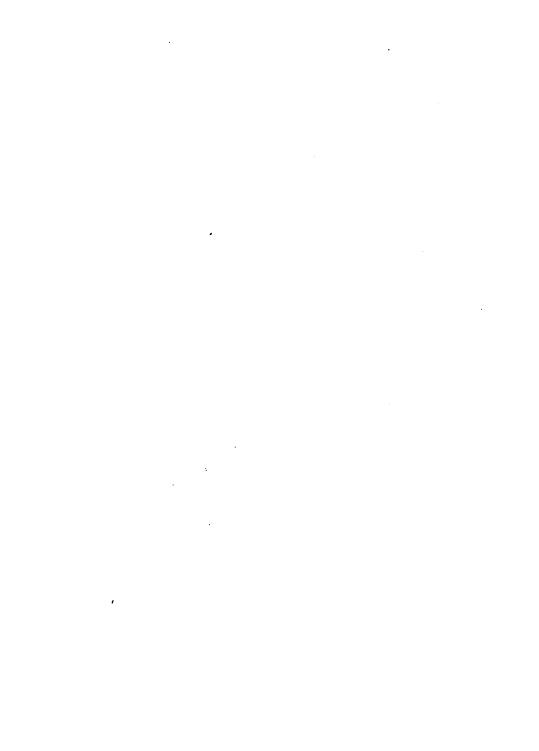

VIII.

A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM

There was an Athenian weaver
Who worked at his trade like a beaver,
Till one night 't was his luck
To become stage-struck,
Mistaking the stage for a lever.

Controller of the second •

XI.

THE TAMING OF THE SHREW

A tinker named Christopher Sly,
Who drank too much liquor when dry,
Dreamed of taming a shrew;
But it didn't come true,
For he hadn't the courage to try.

XII.

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL

There once was a girl they called Helen,
And she was in trouble—yes, well in;
But though in so tight,
She got out all right;
So it didn't much matter she fell in.

XIII.

TWELFTH NIGHT

There once was a girl in Illyria, Whose flirting so greatly did weary a Bachelor duke That he didn't rebuke, But wed her, to ward off hysteria.

XIV.

THE WINTER'S TALE

There once were two kings had a scrimmage

(Who lived in a distant and dim age) About one king's wife: She died-then showed life

By appearing on Earth as an image.

XV.

KING JOHN

England once had a king called John,
But never a second one;
For he was so bad,
If another they'd had,
The land to the dogs would have gone.

XVI.

KING RICHARD II

There was a king called Richard Second
But away from his throne he was beckoned;
Then shut in a tower,
Where, robbed of his power,
Among the "resigned" he was reckoned.

XVII.

KING HENRY IV.

A Henry whose number was four
Spent much time in shedding of gore;
He did it in war,
And though none knew what for,
He constantly clamored for more.

XVIII.

KING HENRY V

There once was a king called Fifth Harry
Who sword-thrusts neatly could parry
And it helped him (this thing)
To succeed as a king,
And it also did help him to marry.

XIX.

KING HENRY VI

A king known as Harry VI
Would sit on his throne and would sigh,
Till one Dick came along
And stopped his sad song
By saying, "Your place I'll supply."

XX.

KING RICHARD III.

There once was a monarch named Dick:
To his kingdom he didn't long stick;
For he offered his crown
For a horse (marked down),
Thus ending his reign very quick.

XXI.

KING HENRY VIII.

A king they called Bluff King Hal
Was a very congenial pal
When he had his own way,
But when one said him nay
Quite a different person was Hal.

XXII.

ROMEO AND JULIET

There once was a young girl called Juliet:

Were she living, she'd be a fool yet.

She played dead in a tomb,

Which proved her real doom,

And that was the end of Miss Juliet.

XXIII.

OTHELLO

There once was a man named Othello,
An outrageously jealous old fellow:
When they told him some lies,
Quite green turned his eyes,
And like a great bull he did bellow.

XXIV.

KING LEAR

There once was a monarch named Lear Whose manner of ruling was queer:

Some daughters he had:

Said they, "Dad is mad—
'Tis high time that we interfere."

XXV.

MACBETH

There once was a bad Thane of Fife
Who had an old witch for a wife;
She, and three other witches,
By deeds dark as pitch is,
Plunged the country in warfare and strife.

XXVI.

TIMON OF ATHENS

There once was a man they called Timon—
(How the deuce shall I get a rhyme in?)
Who squandered his all
On a Bachelor's Hall
Instead of donating to Hymen.

XXVII.

HAMLET

There once was a gloomy young Dane
Who all frolic and fun did disdain;
In his dictionary
You couldn't find "merry,"
And "pleasure" defined he as "pain."

XXVIII.

TROILUS AND CRESSIDA

There once was a girl named Gressida
Who wasn't at all bona fide;
Troilus did woo
Her, but found her untrue,
And was very sorry he tried her.

XXIX.

CYMBELINE

There once was a king of old Britain
Who had a mug like a mitten:
By which statement glean
That his quarrelsome queen
So remarked, though 'tisn't so written.

XXX.

CORIOLANUS

There existed one Goriolanus:
Folks said, "This man does disdain us—
He gives us but sneers—
He's proud, it appears;
And pride is a crime that is heinous."

XXXI.

JULIUS CÆSAR

There once was a Roman named Gæsar:
Who had a nose like a tweezer:
He ended his life
Disobeying his wife,
When he went to the Senate to tease her.

XXXII.

ANTONY AND CLEOPATRA

There was an Egyptian queen—
The fairest (they say) ever seen;
But though she was pretty,
And also was witty,
She was most unaccountably mean.

XXXIII.

PERICLES

There once was a young Prince of Tyre,
And he was the son of his sire;
He was called Pericles:
He will always please;
For he Shakespeare and me did inspire.

XXXIV.

VENUS AND ADONIS

A hunter there was named Adonis
Whose fate by the following shown is:
He was chased by a boar,
And pursued by a bore:
That the latter was Venus well known is.

			s

XXXV.

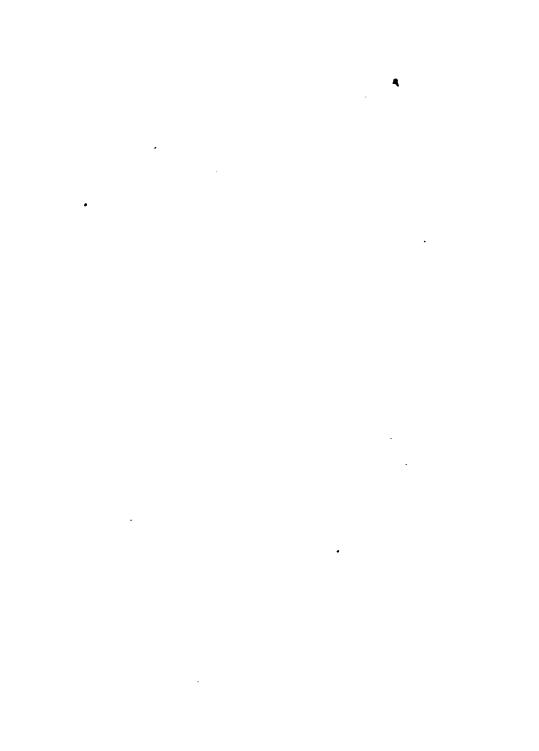

LUCRECE

A lady there was named Lucrece
Who resided at Rome or at Greece—
(Which place doesn't matter—
I just put the latter
For rhyme's sake—it might have been Nice).

XXXVI.

SONNETS

Bill Shakespeare wrote many a sonnet:
He gave one, instead of a bonnet,
Each Easter to Anne—
He gave it—then ran—
And left her to meditate on it.

A LOVER'S COMPLAINT

A lover once made a complaint

So tedious it made persons faint—

That is, those who heard

To the very last word;

For the patience 'twould try of a saint.

XXXVIII.

THE PASSIONATE PILGRIM

There once was a passionate pilgrim,
So sad he'd have made Jack or Jill grim;
But Shakespeare just wrote
For a twenty-pound note
This stuff, so it didn't make Bill grim.
